FORMER RESIDENT IN FATAL ACCIDENT

LOST LIFE IN MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT WHILE IN THE PERFORMANCE OF DUTY.

Event Recalls the Lamentable Deeath of Green's Father at This City Many Years Ago.

Harry Beck Green, a native of Redwood City, lost his life in a motorcycle accident which occurred between Haywards and Decoto, Alameda county, on the 19th instant. He lingered until last Saturday when he passed away. The deceased was one of the Alameda county motorcycle officers. On the night of the 19th instant he was thrown from his machine and lay unconscious on the road until he was picked up by an automobile and taken to a hospital. The following day he regained consciousness and was able to recognize his wife and mother. Hopes were entertained for his recovery until last Thursday when he became worse and the doctors decided that his only chance for life lay in an operation,which was performed, but he never regained consciousness. His brain was paralyzed and he had no sense of sight, hearing or feeling Saturday night he passed away, his mother and wife being at his bedside until the last. His burial took place on Tuesday of this week.

Harry Beck Green was the only son of the late Sheriff George W. Green of this county and was born in this city September 23, 1880. His mother, now Mrs. Tyson of Niles, was Miss Lizzie Beck, a popular lady who grew up in this city. Besides his mother he is survived by his wife and three small boys. The deepest sympathy of many friends in this city is extended to the bereaved relatives.

In a letter to friends here telling of the sad death of her son, Mrs. Tyson writes resignedly: "My dear boy left his home in the best of health, and at 7:30 that night we were sent for to find him on his death bed. We are thankful that he passed away, for had he lived he would have been a physical and mental wreck."

The death of Sheriff George W. Green, the father of Harry Green, thirty-four years ago, was one of the county's most lamentable events. Mr. Green was a popular and brave official. On the morning of Sunday, November 6, 1881, he took his family on a boating trip down to the bay. When they were opposite the point where the Chinese shrimp fishery used to stand, a squall caused the boat to capsize and the whole party, composed of the sheriff and his wife and two children, a little girl, the daughter of a friend, and a prisoner named Von Senden, were thrown into the water. Mr. Green and Von Senden succeeded in getting Mrs. Green and the children up on the bottom of the overturned boat, but themselves had to remain in the water. Soon they became chilled and just as Mrs. Green was in the act of reaching out to give her husband assistance, he was siezed with cramps and sank to the bottom. Von Senden, the prisoner was attempting to reach the shore to get help when he too went down. A few minutes more and the whole party might have been drowned but for the arrival of the Chinese fishermen who rescued Mrs. Green and the children and took them to their camp where they were revived and kept until help came.

The bodies of the sheriff and his equally brave prisoner were recovered and both were laid away with such honors as are due to those who would give up their lives that others might be spared.

EDW. W. THOMPSON, GRAND ARMY VETERAN IS DEAD.

Edward W. Thompson, for many years a former well-known resident of this city and Pescadero, passed away at the home of his son Henry at Portland, Oregon, on Tuesday, after a long illness. Mr. Thompson was a painter by trade. He served in the Mexican war and also in the Civil war as a Union soldier. The deceased is survived by four children, Henry and Edward Thompson of Portland, Mrs. D. P. Fullerton of San Mateo and Grace M. Herbst of Victoria. His brother, the late Harry B. Thompson, also an old soldier, was for many years a clerk in the courthouse. The deceased was 86 years of age. He was a member of the local Grand Army post.

QUARRELING WOMEN AIR TROUBLES IN COURT

Charged by Mrs. Romie B. Hutchinson, real estate dealer of 4627 San Bruno avenue, with disturbing the peace, Mrs. Julia T. Roberts of Visitacion Valley Monday morning appeared before Justice of the Peace Porter E. Lamb of Burlingame, sitting in Judge Lampkin's court and demanded a jury trial. Judge Lamb set the trial for January 12 in this city.

The women have been neighbors in Visitacion Valley and a quarrel of long duration reached a climax when Mrs. Hutchinson swore to the complaint against Mrs. Roberts.

Mrs. Hutchinson has engaged the services of Former District Attorney J. J. Bullock as special prosecutor and Mrs. Roberts has retained Attorney Harold Ide Cruzan of San Francisco to defend her.

SAN FRANCISCO MAGAZINE GIVES REDWOOD PUBLICITY

The picture of Mrs. Henry C. Finkler, president of the Redwood City Woman's Club, is one of seven illustrations in a two-page article published in the current number of "Everywoman," a magazine of wide circulation among the clubwomen of the Pacific Coast. Describing the activities of the Redwood clubwomen, the writer of the article, E. T. McGettigan of the Peninsula Industrial Commission says:

"The Woman's Club of Redwood has a cozy home among the oaks of the Highlands. The history of the club is a continuous tale of women striving for the attainment of the best in community development. 'Business first, then pleasure,' has been the motto of the club, and that it has been lived up to is shown throughout the city. Officered since its inception by capable women, it has a record of doing things. Among its feature acts is a yearly floral carnival which is looked forward to not only by the people of Redwood but by thousands of visitors. Its frequent programs are sources of much pleasure to members and guests. Extremely active in civic affairs, the clubwomen of Redwood have helped to make their community an ideal home place. It is now under the very capable leadership of Mrs. Henry C. Finkler, one of its founders."

Mr. McGettigan, who is a resident of this city, has widely advertised the peninsula cities in a series of articles of which the story in "Everywoman" is the fourth. The write-ups are in accordance with an advertising campaign planned by the Peninsula Industriaal Commission.

GARDENERS SAVE THE DE GUIGNE TREASURES

David Gallavin and Fred Thorogood, members of the unemployed army, are in San Mateo jail, charged with burglary. Due to the quick action of two gardeners in the home of Christian de Guigne Sr., the men were captured Tuesday in the same room with two safes containing a great part of the priceless de Guigne collection of art treasures.

During the absence of the de Guignes in France the house, which is one of the largest mansions on the peninsula, is left in charge of William Young and Thos. McGrath, gardeners, who sleep on the second floor. They detected the sound of intruders, telephoned Chief of Police McComb, and then stood watch until the latter arrived.

The men made no effort to resist arrest. Nothing was taken.

GOOD SUGGESTION TO REDWOOD CITY PEOPLE

It is surprising the amount of old, foul matter the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka drains from the system. This remedy became famous by curing appendecitis and acts on BOTH the upper and lower bowel so thoroughly that ONE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation almost IMMEDIATELY. We are mighty glad we are Redwood City agents for Adler-i-ka.

DEAD BODY IDENTIFIED; RELATIVES ARE NOTIFIED

George Sutherland, whose body was found in the Selby field last Wednesday, was interred in Cypress Lawn cemetery Tuesday. It was ascertained that the deceased had been a cement worker in San Francisco and had long been a sufferer from tuberculosis. Among his effects letters were found which disclosed that he had two brothers living in New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, who were communicated with and who directed that his body be buried here. Coroner Plymire held an inquest on the body and from the evidence presented it was established that death was caused by tuberculosis. Sutherland was a resident of San Mateo for a few weeks in August and dropped out of sight on the 21st of that month. Dr. Plymire has applied for letters of administration on the estate of the deceased, amounting to $4000 on deposit in the Hibernia bank.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

SPLENDID LIFE WORK ENDED.

In the death of the Most Rev. Patrick Willian Riordan, Archbishop of San Francisco, not alone the religious life, but the civil, social, educational, financial and every phase of life of this great state and especially of its metropolis, have sustained and are keenly conscious of an irreparable loss. His was at all times a commanding figure both in church and state.

Most Rev. Patrick William Riordan was born at Chatham, in New Brunswick, August 27, 1841. At an early age he moved to Chicago. His education was had successively at Notre Dame, Indiana, at Paris, Louvain, and Rome. He was elevated to the priesthood in June, 1865. Returning to Chicago he became professor of Church History and Dogmatic Theology in the Seminary of St. Mary's of the Lake. After two years of this work he was assigned to the parish of Joliet and afertwards to St. James, in Chicago which he built up from the ground and left it one of the most flourishing parishes in the diocese. The remarkable pastoral zeal and executive ability he displayed in his parish work decided Rome to appoint him to the larger field and far more difficult work of administration of the Archdiocese of San Francisco. In 1883 he was consecrated Coadjutor with right of succession to Archbishop Alemany. A year later by the resignation and retirement of the Saintly Alemany, Most Rev. P. W. Riordan became Archbishop of San Francisco. Owing to his European education, his knowledge of the languages, customs and traditions of the different nationalities that make up San Francisco's cosmopolitan population, Archbishop Riordan proved a most happy selection. It would be difficult in even a very extended article to give an adequate idea of the work accomplished by Archbishop Riordan in his thirty years of rule here. In a summary it might be stated absolutely without restriction and without fear of contradiction that his was the leadership, his the directing mind, his the masterful hand both in civil and religious affairs in two distinct periods of construction in San Francisco. On his arrival in San Francisco he found the city and state hardly more than emerged from the chaos and free and easy conditions of early mining days and still in the first stages of civil and social formation. He found the church only beginning to reassert herself after the destructive work of secularization of the old missions and putting forth her first feeble efforts to adjust herself to the new and tremendously problematic conditions of a city and state born to greatness in a night. In both fields he assumed and was readily granted leadership.

In the reconstruction period following the great disaster of 1906, it was Archbishop Riordan's "I am a citizen of no mean city," and his confident prophecy that "This city will be rebuilt in a very short time, and the new San Francisco will surpass in beauty and splendor the one that has perished," that put courage in the hearts and strength in the arms of San Franciscans to begin and vigorously prosecute the city's rebuilding. It was likewise the Archbishop's unwavering faith, lofty courage and remarkable financial genius that replaced in a more perfect form all that the church had lost in that great disaster. This is but a brief, a mean summary of what the Archbishop has been to San Francisco. He was at all times a leader in matters religious, social and moral. When he came before the people he came commanding the respect of all. He was the great man of the community in which he lived for 30 years. From his commanding presence, tall, dignified, stately, he was recognized at all times as a ruler of men. Courageous with the consciousness of right, he ever stood ready to denouce wrong and to suggest and apply its remedy and in all great questions in every crisis the public always waited on his word. Archbishop Riordan will be remembered as a man of brilliant achievements. His plans were always vast, providing not only for today, but for the future. His administration has been one succession of great undertakings, all of which were brought to successful finish. In the ecclesiastical annals of this country the late Archbishop of the Province of San Francisco will be numbered among the truly great of this great age.

"SOME PING PONG"

Apropos of last week's article on tennis, we have been requested to make note of the Ping-Pong Season, and consequently have bowed in submission to the many enthusiasts of that noble sport to render perhaps a more comprehensive and exhaustive epitomen of it than has yet been given in this paper about any major sport, not excepting quoits.

Although not desiring to cause any personal animosity, we feel it our duty to give the "All Star" Selection of the Ping-Pong team. Notwithstanding all the adverse criticism we expect to encounter. We hope al will realize that places on the team have not been given through any caprice; and we wish it understood that none have been left out of the All-Star Selection through any grievance which may be cherished against them by us, and moreover, that all positions have been given solely through individual merit. We might also add that those whose names are not mentioned, and who accordigly are not fit for the team in our eyes will find consolation in the last line of Milton's famous sonnet, written on the occasion of Ischa Bibbles birthday: "They also serve who only stand and wait."

Following is the All-Star Selection:

Off Center, H. O. Heiner.
Slip Forward, H. W. Lampkin.
Front End, Mickey Collins.
Back End, Tom Flynn.
May Pole, Fred Chilcott.
Dealer, George Holden.
Half Full, Joe Bush.
Chaplain, Harry Moore.

The honors of the season fall to that tower of strength, more specifically, that tank of strength, Frank Eberer, whose excellent work at Right Coast Defense has never been equaled in the past and is never expected to be approached in the future. It is with due reluctance that we point out the name of but one member receiving all the highest honors, this singulardistinction and manner being quite different from the way in which honors are bestowed in tennis, where it is the privilege of six or seven to be mentioned as having carried off the glory from all others during the season. However, we can say as the selection of high man is made only after the most careful and delicate balancing of each member's attributes, we feel that it will be taken in the right humor. Moreover we have weighed Frank and found him not wanting literally or figuratively. On any ordinary team with Bill Barg or C. C. Benson would have been made the Coast defense, still our sympathy and good will counted not and we gave the positions to the two who were prominent. We were indeed sorry at having such a superaboundance of material for those places. On the other hand we had not one who would have been able to step into Joe Bush's shoes at half-full, if perchance any accident befell that worthy. While there was no position designated as Full, it is expected that if there was, every member, even the Subs would have been able to take care of same. "Pari passu" our May Pole selection caused much worry and our choice was not decided on until the last moment. Incidetally the Club has no secretary, the reason being that the extreme modesty of all concerned forbade any communication to the wonderful achievements of the members to be made to the outside world. By the way, no music will be written for the rendering of the All-Star Selection, as it has already been noted down.—Get the joke.

Honors to Prof. Mezes.

The following dispatch taken from the San Francisco Chronicle may be of interest to a number of local residents: Dr. Sidney Edward Mezes, now president of the College of the City of New York, and former dean of the University of Texas, was enthusiastically received by 2500 students today at the big college hall, where he addressed them informally for the first time. The new president promised that he would be accessible daily to all students. He expressed faith in the efficiency of the honor system, and asserted that no "academic aristocracy" would be permitted. The Journal of Education in speaking of the appointment of Proffesor Mezes says that the presidency of the University of New York City was vacant for fifteen months while the regents were searching for the best man in the coutry to fill the position which pays a salary of $12,000, while the presidency of the University of Texas paid $5000 a year.

Holiday Entertainment.

The annual entertainment and Christmas tree exercises of the Sunday school of St. Peter's church was held Tuesday evening at the Guild hall. An especially interesting program prepared under the direction of Miss Mary Murray, one of the teachers, was rendered by the children. Following the entertainment each of the children of the school were given a present of some character.

Hubert Kirkpatrick, electrician at the Guggenheim properties near Nome, Alaska, came home last week and will spend the winter with his mother, Mrs. Lila Kirkpatrick. Mr. Kirkpatrick will remain until April before returning to Alaska.

Making People Better.

There are more people in cities than anywhere else.

When you want to accomplish a certain result you go where there is the greatest opportunity.

To make government better you must make people better.

To make people better you must work where there are the greatest number of them.

Remove the cities, and the country will take care of itself.

In advertising campaigns one district is tried out first. If it succeeds, then the whole country is taken. This saves much money. It reduces the risk.

In this country we are trying to reform too many cities at once. Let us take one at a time.

Begin anywhere.

If New York is too large, take Fifth avenue. Let all the efficiency reformers in the country concentrate on Fifth avenue. Let's learn on Fifth avenue.

If we can reform Fifth avenue we can reform the world.—Thomas L. Masson in Lippincott's.

Making an Apology.

Never be in too great hurry to apologize.

And don't apologize unless you are absolutely certain that you have given offense. More feelings have been hurt by unnecessary apologizes than by careless words or actions.

In any case you need not copy the example of people who say, "I'm sorry I was so absentminded when you were talking to me," or, "I'm afraid I didn't seem very pleased to see you the last time you called."

A very wise old lady once said: "My dear, never apologize. The chances are that the people to whom you speak will not know they have been offended till you begin to explain it to them. But once they have grasped it they will never forget it again.

"So leave well alone and show your regret by being extra nice next time to make up for past shortcomings."—Pittsburgh Press.

Mixed Orders.

The very last telegraphic dispatch wired from Germany before hostilities began in the Franco-Prussian war was from Count Benedetti, the French ambassador, and was sent to the French foreign office. After stating that war could not be avoided the dispatch wound up with the following extraordinary statement: "Do not put so much seasoning in your next consignment of sausages." The astonishment that this message caused to the recipients at such a time can well be conceived, but it afterward turned out that the imminence of war and a perfect flood of telegrams had befogged the German telegraphists. As a matter of fact, they had mixed a purely commercial telegram from a Teutonic pork butcher named Benedict with the historic message from Count Benedetti.—London Standard.

Ready For the Wash.

Mrs. Commuter, basely deserted by her maid at the eleventh hour, mobilized a Swedish reserve in desperation for the dinner party. All the English the new domestic understood was the sign manual, but an hour's drill put her in some shape for service. The dinner went well until dessert. The Swede forgot the finger bowls, which should have been upon the plates. Mrs. Commuter employed the sign manual under cover of the table illustrating the washing and drying of hands. The Swede nodded, went on and returned.

Mrs. Commuter turned to find the new domestic at her elbow. Serenely she held a dishpan of hot water, a cake of yellow washing soap and the kitchen roller towel.—New York Post.

Easy.

"Some folks," said the busy woman, "take life easy, as easy as the new hired girl wanted to take her new place.

"'Everything goes by clockwork here,' the mistress said to this girl—'by clockwork, mind you. You get up at 6, you dine at 12, and you go to bed at 10.'

"'Well, if that's all,' said the girl, with a smile, 'I think I will be able to manage it.'"

Breathing.

To learn to breathe properly inflate the lungs and walk for five paces, keeping the mouth shut and breathing through the nose, increasing the five paces to ten and then to fifteen or more. Follow this up by taking several long breaths after getting up in the morning and again before retiring.

Dryden and His Wife.

Dryden married Lady Elizabeth Howard, a shrew of marked ability. She complained that he showed her no attention and wished herself a book that she might enjoy more of his society. "Wish yourself an almanac, my dear. Then I could change you every year."

A Negotiable Draft.

"Well," replied the physician when his patient wife asked him for money, "I hope to cash a draft soon and then"—

"Cash a draft? What draft?"

"The one I saw Mr. Oldtown sitting in this morning."

Discouraged.

"Are you working for the uplift?"

"Well, I'd like to. But everybody I try to uplift tells me to mind my own business."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

The Reason.

"Why is it that dressmakers so often get away with smuggling?"

"I suppose it is the survival of the fit-tist."—Baltimore American.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES OF MENLO PARK

Intererting Paragraphs of General Interest Gathered About the Town

Dennis Casey, who was quite ill for the past month, has entirely recovered and is himself again.

The stork left a precious New Year's gift at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Caesar Tamasini in the form of a baby girl, December 31, 1914.

Mrs. Cora Isabella Rankin (also known as B. C. Rankin) who died in San Francisco December 26, was a cousin of August and Bertha Berner of Menlo Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merrill are receiving congratulations from their friends on the birth of a son at their home here on December 26. Mrs. Merrill was formerly Miss Phyliss Moulton.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Marcus have returned from Los Angeles, where they went two weeks ago to spend the holidays. They stopped for a while at Santa Barbara. They enjoyed the tripvery much.

A young son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Milo F. Kent in San Francisco on Christmas day. The Kents are well-known here, having spent last summer at the Oak Grove Villa. Mr. Kent is connected with the real estate firm of Umbsen & Company of San Francisco.

Mr. J. Van Zant, who resided with his brother at the Donohoe residence opposite the Catholic church some twenty years ago, called on friends here last week. He resides in England and being in Calofirnia he could not resist the temptation of seeing again and and meeting once more his friends and familiar places that he knew twenty years ago.

Leo Bernard suffered the loss of a new bicycle Wednesday night. The wheel was on the front porch of his home. It is supposed that some tramp in passing the house saw it and thaught it a good thing to use in his wanderings and removed the bike.

Burglars were active in this place Sunday, according to reports made to the county police Monday Joe Cull the painter, was robbed of $45 in money and a silver watch. Thomas Fitzgerald, the hotel man, reported that his place had been entered. Arthur J. Carleton, courthouse gardener who lives at Menlo Park, reported that his home was burglarized. Constable Martin Walsh is working on the case, but thus far has secured no clews.

The late Archbishop P. W. Riordan administered the sacrament of confirmation as auxiliary bishop over thirty years ago for the first time to a large class prepared by Father M. O'Riordan, then pastor of this parish. By a singular coincidence the Archbishop's last class was confirmed by him here only a short time ago. The editor of this paper was the first person to receive the sacrament at his hands and Grace Carleton the last one.

The hobo hotel started recently by the municipality of Palo Alto has been the means of bringing a horde of tramps and bad characters from all over the state to this community. Petty thefts and robberies are reported in many sections of the peninsula and no wonder when thieves, cut throats and evil doers are invited to come here by the citizens of Palo Alto. That city will be responsible for any crimes that may be committed in this locality during the existence of the tramp hotel fostered by the College City.

The beautiful and attractive decorations in the Menlo Pharmacy during the Christmas holidays caused much favorable comment and brought forth unstinted praise for the enterprising druggist, Mrs. M. E. Selzer. The Colgate decoration in the windows was unique and well arranged. The interior of the store was made attractive by a profusion of sweet-smelling blooms, potted plants and exitics. From the ceiling hung a huge bunch of mistletoe under which passed many a blushing maiden and coy youth during the holiday season. Mrs. Selzer is to be congratulated upon her thoughtful enterprise.

Rev. Richard Wakeham, widely known as an educator in Catholic Colleges, died at Cold Springs, New York, recently at the age of 68 years. The deceased was very well known in Menlo Park. At the request of the late Archbishop, Father Wakeham came out here from New York in 1898 to purchase the furniture and supervise its installation in St. Patrick's Seminary. He remained here a year and then returned east. Father Wakeham was a guest at the parochial residence of the Church of the Nativity while here and frequently celebrated mass. His sermons were eloquent and complete with beautiful thought. Father Wakeham will be remembered as a kindly, devout, and holy priest.

Miss Christine Donohoe distinguished herself last Saturday in the role of Santa Claus at the Christmas party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Donohoe, at the family home here. A number of friends and neighbors were invited to an informal tea dance at the Donohoes, and were received by Mr. and Mrs. Donohoe and Miss Katherine and Miss Mary Donohoe. There was a huge Christmas tree, and the guests were asked to form a line and pass the tree. A wonderful Santa Claus appeared to give out gifts, and later, to everyone's surprise, he turned out to be Miss Christine. The disguise was perfect, and she played the part in a most approved Santa Claus style. Some of the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Perry Eyre, Miss Elena Eyre, Mr and Mrs. Percy Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Girvin, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Folger, the Misses Evelyn and Genevieve Cunningham and others.

Dr. Henry Kugeler, oldest son of Mrs. Charles Coxin of this place, who died in San Francisco Sunday last, passed a portion of his boyhood in Menlo Park. Overwork and constant application to the details of his profession caused a breakdown from which he did not rally. Dr. Kugeler was a graduate of the university of California, but completed his medical studies in Germany. He was one of the foremost surgeons of San Francisco, enjoying a large practice, his patients being among the very wealthy class of the city. Shortly before his death he began specializing on the diseases of the brain and had he lived would have become very eminent in this branch of the medical profession. Eleven years ago the doctor married a wealthy society girl of Colorado and three children have been born to them, two sons and a daughter. Mrs. Coxin and her daughter, Miss Meta Kugeler, have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

the State University has decided to take over the active management of the Bear Gulch Water Company from the estate of the late Senator Felton, and to develop the system until an abundance of pure water is assured to every consumer in Woodside, Menlo Park and vicinity.

The ownership of the plant, which includes a beautiful artificial lake, has for many years been divided between the university and Senator Felton, with four-fifths of the stock of this close corporation vested in the university.

During his lifetime Senator Felton managed the company, and doubtless without any suggestion on his part, an idea became more or less fixed in the minds of the faculty that the Senator proposed to endow the university, at his demise, with his interest in the water corporation. He didn't do it, however.

It is proposed by the new management to make the existing reservoir one of the beauty spots of the county and to expand the present capacity of the plant fourfold.

During the seasons of drought—such as 1912—consumers of water in the district supplied by the Bear Gulch Company were supplied by water for domestic use from carts.

Congratulations are being extended to Ensign and Mrs. Valentine Wood on account of the birth of a daughter at their home in Boston on December 11. The little girl will be called Barbara. Mrs. Wood was formerly Miss Grace Dudley of Menlo Park, daughter of Mrs. Palmer Dudley and granddaughter of Mrs. William L. Adams. Ensign and Mrs. Wood expect to be sent to Mare Island during the exposition year, in which event they will be accompanied west by Mrs. Dudley.

Old Suit Finally Settled.

In hte estate of Elizabeth Reed, deceased, the late W. H. Bias of Santa Cruz was the administrator with the will annexed and brought suit on behalf of the estate to quiet title to a ranch near Pescadero, of the value of about $50,000 and for the possession. The suit involved the validity of a deed by which James Reed, the husband of the deceased, Elizabeth Reed, had conveyed the ranch property to the wife in 1883. The case was hotly contested in the Superior Court of this county, wherein Judge Hunt, Superior Judge of San Francisco, sat in place of Judge Buck, sustained the validity of the deed and the case was appealed to the Supreme Court by the heirs of James Reed. The Supreme Court sustained the decision of Judge Hunt, whereupon the defendants petitioned for a rehearing before the Supreme Court en banc, which was granted. The Supreme Court en banc last weel handed down a decision again sustaining the validity of the deed and adopting the opinion of the Supreme Court in department.

The heirs of Elizabeth Reed who by this decision obtained the title in possession of the ranch involved are Mrs. Cornelia Hubbard and her daughter, Mrs. Ida Raney, both of Pescadero.

Some of the points involved in this case were unique in the legal history of the country and were presented for the first time in this case. The victorious parties to the suit were represented by Attorneys Harry J. Bias of Santa Cruz nd Charles M. Cassin, now of San Jose.

The defendants, or the Reed party to the suit, were represented by E. F. Fitzpatrick and Ross & Ross of this city. The case has been pending for years and its final termination gives the valuable ranch at Pescadero to the heirs of Elizabeth Reed, who died prior to her husband.

Hardware Men Banquet.

A number of the leading hardware merchants of the peninsula towns were among the guests at a dinner and theatre party given in San Francisco Wednesday night by the firm of Baker & Hamilton. Twelve were seated at the dinner which was sedved at Techau Tavern and which was presided over by A. S. Gifford of Baker & Hamilton. After dinner the entire party attended the performance at the Orpheum. Among the guests from San Mateo county were: Guy P. Hull and Asa Hull of Hull Brothers, Redwood City, and Robert Bonner, Robert Wisnom and William Wisnom of the Wisnom-Bonner Hardware Company of San Mateo and Burlingame.

Mercus' Department Store is making a specialty of the W. L. Douglas shoe for men, designed specially for style, comfort and service.

MANSFIELD'S CONTEST PROVES FLAT FAILURE

Recount of Votes Shows Increase in Majority for Sheehan Over Original Returns

The election contest brought by J. H. Mansfield against M. Sheehan, who received a clear majority of 184 votes over his opponent last November, was heard before Judge Troutt of San Francisco, sitting for Judge Buck, on Monday. Forty-four out of the fifty-five precincts were counted and very few changes were made, except in San Mateo No. 8, where an error of 22 votes in favor of Sheehan was discovered. Aside from this discrepancy most of the precincts showed very little change. When the forty-fourth precinct was counted late on Thursday evening, Albert Mansfield, acting at attorney for his father, gave up the contest and asked that a dismissal be entered in favor of Mr. Sheehan. The result of the recount showed a net gain of 15 votes for Sheehan, making his lead over Mansfield 199 votes. Mr. Sheehan will assume charge of the Sheriff's office at noon on Monday. His uder sheriff will be H. W. Lampkin, whose term as justice of the peace of the Third township will expire at that time. Mr. Sheehan is very fortunate in his selection of the man who will be his first assistant for the next four years. A better appointment could not have been made. Mrs. W. H. Kinne will be matron of the jail and that appointment too, is an excellent one. Mr. Sheehan will not make kown the name of his jailer until Monday.

Following is a list of precincts recounted, showing the gains of each candidate.

PIONEER WOMAN CALLED TO REST

Many Friends Mourn Passing of Mrs. H. S. Johnston.

Saturday afternoon last the Congregational church was crowded with friends and sympathizers of the late Hannah S. Johnston, when the last sad rites were held. The services were solemn aud impresive. Rev. Stevens spoke in the highest praise of the dead pioneer and feelingly spoke of her many excellent qualities of mind and heart. After the services the body was taken to the James Crowe undertaking parlor, where it remained until the following day, when the body was shipped to Cypress Lawn Cemetery for burial. Mrs. Johnston passed away early last Saturday morning. Pneumonia was the malady that caused her death. Mrs. Johnston was a pioneer of this community, having arrived here nearly fifty years ago. Her death removes a familiar figure from this locality, where she was well known and liked. Since the death of her husband, Robert Johnston, some years ago, she devoted herself largely to charitable work. She was a prominent member of the Congregational church of this city and was widely known and esteemed throughout the county.

Mrs. Johnston was born in County Down, Ireland, 87 years ago, but the greater portion of her life was spent in the United States. She leaves no immedtate relatives. Several nieces and nephews are left to mourn the good woman. The trials of life are ended now. The busy arms are folded, for the deep hush of death has sealed the lips and stillled the heart forever. The blinds on Ivy Cottage are drawn, doors are closed, the grim destroyer has darkened the home of a pioneer of San Mateo county. Within the home sit no loved ones, waiting, longing to call back the dear departed; but friends who knew her will cherish her memory and often recall her kindly words and the beauty and purity of her Christian life.

DOINGS ABOUT THE COUNTY OFFICES

Matters of General Interest to Litigants Culled from the Public Records.

The suit entitled Dante Tamo against Albert Meyer, was transferred during the week from the Superior Court of San Francisco to the Superior Court of this county for trial. The action was brought on November 13, 1911 in San Francisco. The complaint alleges that in 1911 plaintiff was run over by an automobile owned and operated by Meyer, on Valencia street, San Francisco. Plaintiff suffered severe injury, his left foot being badly bruised. Tamo asks for damages in the sum of $1500, medicine and doctor bills amounting to $60 and for the further sum of $500, which plaintiff would have earned if he had not met with the mishap, making a total of $2060, which amount the plaintiff asks besides the cost of suit. James G. Maguire is the attorney for the plaintiff, while K. M. Green of San Mateo represents Meyer, a resident of Burlingame.

New Actions in Superior Court.

Josephine A. Phelps has brought an action in the Superior Court against the Spring Valley Water Company to have a certain agreement entered into by and between the parties in June, 1907 revised. The defendant agreed to lease 800 acres of land containing a splendid watershed. The defendant agreed to pay a rental of $5000 a year and to have an option to purchase the property for $100,000. A survey was made of the land described in the lease when it was found that defendant was in possession of 977 acres instead of 800 acres. Mrs. Phelps wants the lease and option reversed accordingly.

Emma G. Covey has brought a suit in partition in the Superior Court against Frederick W. Kreiss and others. The property to be partitioned consists of all of block 9, consisting of 16 lots, Eastern Addition to the City of Redwood, known as the Pioneer Brewery block. The parties to the suit are the children of the late Catherine Kreiss. Plaintiff in her complaint says that it would be impracticable to divide the property without prejudice to the parties to the action and asks that the block be sold and the proceeds divided among the parties. Plaintiff owns a one-seventh interest in the property.

William R. Berry has commenced foreclosure proceedings in the Superior Court against George F. Newton and Gerald Griffin, as administrators of the estate of Helen C. Newton, deceased, to recover the sum of $540, balance due on a promissory note secured by the mortgage. The property on which the mortgage is to be foreclosed consists of lots 14 and 16, block 33, Dingee Park.

The abstract of Title Company has brought an action in the Superior Court against the Ravenswood Investment company to recover the sum of $320.40 for abstract work performed for defendant during the two years last past. Plaintiff also asks for costs of suit.

The estate consists of seventeen acres of land and improvements back of Wellesley Park, worth $15,000, several lots in Wellesley Park and a few hundred dollars in bank. The entire value of the estate is probably $20,000.

Harriet A. Wood has applied in the Superior Court for letters of guardianship upon the estate and person of Marion Wood, a minor, aged 15 years. May Enlarge Reservoir.

The cost to Stanford University of erecting a dam below Searsville lake to impound the flood waters of San Francisquito creek is a subject that is now being investigated by Vanderlynn Stow, business manager of the university properties. Stow has been given authority by the board of trustees to proceed with the inquiry and to act as his judgment may prompt. This probably means that the dam will be built. By building a dam across the creek and backing the surplus waters far up the channel of the stream at some favorable point enough required water could be impounded, it is thought, to provide a supply for lawns and gardens of prospective lease-hold tenants who may build suburban residences in the foothill district back of the the quadrangles. The capacity of Searsville lake was 344,000,000 gallons, but years of accumulating silt deposit have reducted that reservoir's holding power to a total of only 115,000,000 gallons of water. Stow thinks that a reservoir can be created at small expense by damming the creek and forming a water storage of 1,200,000,000 gal present capacity of Searsville lake.

Holiday Times at La Honda

LA HONDA, Dec. 30—Many were the unconventional Christmas feasts here. Al Wetherbee had some hot birds and cold bottles, quail baked with oyster dressing. The B. Cavalli family, chickens by the wholesale, a la Italiane and side dishes galore.

A good old-time Christmas dinner was served by hospitable Mrs. Ida J. and Miss Annie Sears to their guests. They feasted on a big turkey with cranberry sauce, cream of celery soup, plum pudding and all the many things that go with the finely cooked American bird. After the royal meal, the La Honda orchestra— Mrs. Ida Sears, Leonard Sears and Percy St. John—favored and delighted those present with a fine concert, playing all the new pieces; and as everyone knows, there is no sweeter music in the county than that of this little orchestra.

An ideal holiday was spent at Rancho del Canyon. Here was in truth the Christmas spirit, and love and beauty as well. The dinner replete with the unexpected was a wonder and a feast for the eyes and palate. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McLellan are ideal hosts and with the help of Asher-Bates McLellan, furnished many artistic and toothsome surprises for their guests—Mr. and Mrs. George Steinberg, Mrs. M. Ella Cleveland who came from Los Angeles, Ralph Cleveland, the Smith kiddies, Dana and Browning, sons of Norwood B. Smith of Palo Alto, and yours truly. There was a pretty Christmas tree, ablaze with lights and gift laden. The old-fashioned house was beautifully decorated and the logs in the wide fireplace threw out a cheery blaze. The dinner table was exquisitely decorated with smilax, red candles in brass candlesticks, miniature Santa Claus, nectar filled candies, nuts, raisins, novelties, favors and ornaments. Chestnut-stuffed roast goose and a royal Italian salad were the chef-d'-oeuvres. Then there was fresh oyster soup, Jerusalem artichokes, crab cocktails, plum pudding, suckling pig, spiced pineapple cooked in ginger and a peacock pie from which, when the crust was removed were taken dainty presents for all. And this was only a part of the dinner; and all served on antique china. Pyrotechnic apples were one of the surprises, of which lack of space will not permit a description Reluctantly the happy party broke up at 4 o'clock in the morning after enjoying a big bonfire in front of the house. And on going home in the wee small hours, the wagon in which I rode, seemed a golden chariot.

On Christmas Tom and Jerry visited San Gregorio and in consequence the people were very happy. Please send Messrs. Tom and Jerry this way.

STOP BUYING EXPENSIVE COUGH REMEDIES

Make the Best at Home

Money spent for the old style ready-made, cough syrups in bottles holding only 2 to 2½ ounces is very largely wasted, because most of them are composed principally of sugar and water. Yet you have to pay the same price as if it was all medicine. Stop wasting this money. You can make a better cough medicine at home at one-fifth the cost. Merely go to Ryan's Drug Store and ask for 2 ounces (50c worth) of Schiffmann's Concentrated Expectorant. Mix this with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of boiling water, which makes a full pint (16 ounces). This new, simple, pleasant remedy is guaranteed to relieve the worst cough or cold. Also excellent for Bronchial Asthma, Bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and whooping cough. One bottle will make enough home-made cough medicine to probably last the whole family the entire winter. Children like it, it is so pleasant to take and it positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics as do most cough mixtures. Keep it on hand in case of emergency and stop each cough before it gets a firm hold. The above druggist has been authorized to return the money in every single case where it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the best remedy ever used. Absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy under this positive guarantee.
